

Jamie Noe, Director of Student Services

jamie.noe@laurensaz.org

Role:

As the Director of Student Services, I have the honor to help families onboard their child/ren to receive an education at L.I.F.E. I oversee parts of the enrollment process including tours, placement assessments and recommendations as well as help families secure the appropriate scholarships to afford their child the opportunity to receive the private education they deserve. I oversee and assist teachers to best serve and meet the needs of each individual child. This includes writing relevant goals, choosing appropriate curriculum, making modifications and accommodations. I help ensure we are catering to each student's learning styles and abilities and that the progress is being tracked along the way.

Education:

- M.A. in Elementary Education, Montana State University - Billings, 2009
- B.S. in Business Management and Entrepreneurship, Montana State University - Bozeman, 2006

Career History:

After completion of my student teaching and graduating with my education degree, I began working with children with developmental disabilities within the Special Education field. I was able to provide 1-1 support for a student with Down Syndrome, teach in a classroom with students with extensive support needs, and serve as a 5th grade general education teacher. Born and raised in Montana, my husband and I up and moved to Arizona in November of 2011. I joined the L.I.F.E. team in December of 2011 as a teacher and taught for 4 years. As the L.I.F.E. Academy continued to grow so did I. I started taking on more and more administrative duties and really enjoyed helping families in a different capacity which went beyond the classroom. In 2016 I took over full time as the Director of Student Services.

Personal:

My husband, Jeff, and I were both born and raised in Montana. We moved to Arizona with only our personal belongings and what we could fit into our Ford Escape to chase the beautiful weather. We have enjoyed building our lives in Arizona and have since added two children to our adventure. Between work life and personal life, we stay busy. We enjoy hiking, exploring this great state and being outdoors. We jump at any opportunity to get back to Montana, visit family and especially spend time on Flathead Lake!
